ALSO CHALLENGERS ASKS A HEARING BEFORE A JUDGE

He, Like Richardson, Will Have a Letter for the City Council Tonight.

BOTH WANT TO APPEAR IN THEIR OWN BEHALF

Special Finance Committee Has Been Busy, and May Make a Report on the New Agreement with Kleinworth.

The developments of the week do not indicate first there will be many weekly matters to come up for consideration at the council meeting tonight. Perhaps two of the most important communications will be those submitted by C. L. Richardson, the dismissed city auditor, and Commissioner John Chalmers, both of whom have been charged with errors in the city administration over which they claim to have had no control. Both these city officials are pointing out to the council that in justice to the city and to themselves the council should order an investigation before a judge of the supreme court, in which case these accused will have opportunity to appear in their own behalf.

In the case of the city auditor, he informs the council in his letter that he has never had an opportunity to appear before the council or the committee of council dealing with the case, to give evidence in his own behalf.

In the event of the council refusing these requests for an official investigation before a judge it is quite probable that court action will be taken, especially in the case of the city auditor, to demand of the city council such an investigation.

Special Committee Busy.

The special finance committee has held several meetings during the past few days, and it is probable that the definite arrangement will be reached today in the matter of the Kleinworth agreement with the city.

The committee may report to council tonight on the new agreement now being considered.

Commissioner Chalmers is busy today on the statement of facts he will bring before the council at tonight's meeting.

In this report Mr. Chalmers terms as absolutely false many of the statements made in the findings of the car barn committee, and from official files now in his city hall he is endeavoring to prove this beyond the question of a doubt, and at the same time show that many of the other accounts are not according to the facts.

The statement will also contain replies to the car barn committee's clause by clause. The facts relating to the old tagis pump have been set out in the report, and the committee will be asked to take action on this pump and in a position to compare this with the charge made by the committee.

Mr. Chalmers, in his statement, also states that he has been ordered to pay, among other things, the fact that he recommended the installation of the new electric light system in the city, and also that he advised the remodeling of the present administration building, which it had been decided to discard it.

Versailles, France, Sept. 2.—The thrilling manoeuvre of turning a complete somersault in an aeroplane flying at a rapid speed was repeated today by the French aviator, Louis Bleriot, over the English coast, over the English coast, over the English coast.

Mr. Bleriot was seen by a number of persons, and he was seen to perform the feat with perfect success.

At the time of the performance, Mr. Bleriot was carrying on his back a large number of persons, and he was seen to perform the feat with perfect success.

"SHORT SELLING" ATTACKED

Washington, Sept. 2.—"Short selling" in the New York Stock Exchange, and the Chicago Board of Trade, and on Cotton Producers and Stock Exchanges was attacked by Senator Chalmers in the senate, as one of the greatest "vices" of the day and a menace that threatens every industrial and financial

Strathcona Says He is Going to Be Back Again

Venerable High Commissioner Starts on Return to England from Canada.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 2.—"I am coming back to Montreal again," said Lord Strathcona as he stepped on board the Rutland train this morning to return to New York, and board the Lusitania for England.

"It has been a delight for me to take this flying trip to Montreal," said the venerable high commissioner as he grasped the hand of Principal Peters, of McGill university. "The scene I witnessed in the convention hall when the degrees were being conferred yesterday afternoon is one of the most remarkable in my recollection."

Lord Strathcona left Montreal in the same modest way that he arrived last Sunday morning. There were no cheers at his departure—Lord Strathcona would not have them. But as Principal Peters expressed it "The admiration of all the citizens is being expressed by his indomitable spirit which has enabled him to live down the weight of years. He always speaks as though he were coming to Montreal again next week."

SIXTEEN DEAD, FIFTY INJURED ON NEW HAVEN

Finest Train Out of Maine Summer Resort District is Telescoped.

Bar Harbor Limited Run Into by White Mountain Express—Shock so Terrible Locomotive Swept Up to Telegraph Wires.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Upon receipt of the news of the New Haven disaster, the interstate commerce commission ordered inspectors to proceed immediately to the scene to investigate.

Chief Inspector Belpas, probably will go to Wallingford himself, later today.

It is probable that Commissioner McPherson, directly in charge of the phase of the commissions work, will conduct a personal inquiry into the cause of the crash.

Second Train Escapes.

New Haven, Sept. 2.—The second section of the Bar Harbor Limited, New Haven railroad's finest train out of the Maine summer resort district, was telescoped by the first section of the White Mountain express while the former was standing in a block line outside this city at 6:35 o'clock this morning.

The number of dead, according to railroad officials, is 13, but three died in hospitals, making the total 16. The injured number about 50.

All the dead and injured were in the three rear sleeping cars of the Bar Harbor train.

No one was seriously injured on the White Mountain express.

Both trains were heavily loaded with returning excursionists from fashionable resorts in Maine and the White Mountains.

They were running behind time through a heavy fog.

The Bar Harbor Limited had stopped in the block, but the last car of the long train was just on the edge of the block limits.

The signals had cleared and the express had got under slight headway when the White Mountain express came along.

TO ESTABLISH LAND OFFICES IN NEW TOWNS

Hon. Dr. Roche States Growth of West Demands More Such Places.

BAUQUETTED BY LOCAL CONSERVATIVE ASSN.

Interviews Many Delegations—Has Had Many Requests About the Throwing Open of New Territory.

A very big increase in the number of homesteads taken up next season was prophesied by the Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, who arrived in Edmonton this morning from Calgary. Dr. Roche stated that, through his journey through the west, he had been constantly meeting men who desired to know when certain tracts of land would be opened up to homesteaders. He stated that the recommendation of the ranching community, in so far as they applied to Saskatchewan, would probably be adopted by the government. Alberta, however, will only be partially affected.

Dr. Roche stated the morning interviewing delegations in his private car. In the afternoon the minister of the interior was the guest of the city conservative association at a luncheon at the Empress hotel. A number of members of the conservative association presided over a gathering of fully $50.

Dr. Roche arrived in the city by the C.P.R. train due from Calgary at 7:50 a.m. The train to which his private car was attached, was the one that was wrecked on the P.R. north side station. It was not until 10 o'clock that the train finally arrived at the C.N.R. station.

Dr. Roche was welcomed to Edmonton by a delegation from the city conservative association, among whom were A. P. Dwyer, M.P.P., Major Friesbach and J. J. Lowry, M.P.P.

A delegation from the south side conservative association also welcomed the minister. At midday a municipal delegation, headed by Mayor Short, welcomed Dr. Roche on behalf of the city.

In the course of the morning Dr. Roche was interviewed by several local men from the surrounding districts, including Norman Murray, Vermilion, P.W. Fane and George M. Walker, Verdon, and J. B. Mitchell, O. H. Holmes, Consort, and O. H. Anderson, Consort.

J. B. Mitchell, private secretary to Dr. Roche, is travelling with the minister.

drawn by engine No. 1337, Engineer A. B. Miller and Conductor Fowler. The two rear sleepers demolished were the Pullman "Chambers" from Kimo, Maine, and "Kasala" from Portland, Maine. Nineteen passengers were in the Kasala and 22 in the Chambers.

The overturned sleeper was the "Chambers." It was almost entirely occupied by a camping party of boys returning from Maine. The boys' homes were in New York, Philadelphia and southern parts.

Seven bodies were taken from this car. The first body, identified as that of R. A. Holzhick, of New Haven, Conn. All the passengers were in their beds and in their night clothes making identification of the dead difficult.

The dead and injured were brought to morgues and hospitals in this city.

Stuck to His Engine.
The engineer of the White Mountain express stuck to his engine and was only slightly hurt. The two sleepers which were crushed by the impact of engine 1337 were reduced to splinters. The locomotive ran on top of the wreckage and remained almost upright for a considerable time.

The engine was one of the new super-heaters of the type that figured in the recent wreck at Stamford. The engine in the latter instance was No. 1528.

Among the dead identified at the scene of the wreck are R. A. Holzhick, son of Leonard Holzhick of C. W. Scanton and company, brokers, New York.

EX-MEMBER OF POLICE UP ON LIQUOR CHARGE

William Sheridan, Discharged from Force, Arrested for Selling Liquor.

MOTLEY CREW FACES MAGISTRATE TODAY

Elijah Cobb Alleged to Have Caused Death of Woman is Convicted on Charge of Illegally Practising Medicine.

William Sheridan, an ex-officer of the city police force who was recently dismissed, was arrested Sunday night for selling liquor without a license at the Half Way house between here and Fort Saskatchewan. He was held at the barracks of the mounted police who made the arrest until yesterday when brought before superior judge and fined $100 and costs for each offence. Sheridan recently purchased the contents of the place and assumed the management of the house which has long been under the surveillance of the mounted men. The house has not been used for some months, the former lesser having left the city. The Half Way house is a well known resort for auto parties, being much the same class of place as road houses in the more thickly settled parts of the country.

The place was raided last May when A. King was given two months for the same offence.

A Motley Crew. It was a motley crew that faced the court this morning when Inspector Haver took the bench, nearly all the men in the dock being those who had labored hard holding drinks on Labor Day. Thirty-two libellous personages of all nationalities and creeds slowly answered to their names and heard their worship drone out "Four dollars and two dollars each, or in default, ten days with hard labor. Nearly all of them were able to meet the fine, most of them being well-to-do or having friends who came to their rescue.

Elijah Cobb, Medical Man. These 42, while not requiring much time to dispose of, took up considerable of the time allotted to the court this morning with the result that other cases had to be postponed.

TITLED AMERICAN WIDOW TO WED AGAIN.

Since his return from a most successful trip to the United States, during which he was lionized by the best society in New York and lectured to packed houses on the art of masculine dress, Andre Fouquieres, the noted Parisian dandy, has been seen frequently in the company of the Duchess de Chaulnes, formerly Theodora, daughter of Theodore Shonts, the American traction magnate. So often, in fact, have the pair been seen together at Beauville, that rumors of an engagement are afloat. Neither the duchess or the dandy will affirm or deny stories to this effect.

WILL JOURNEY THROUGH LAND OF THE REBELS

Two Representatives of President Wilson Will Visit Plantation Among Bandits.

MILITARY AUTHORITIES SEIZE AMMUNITION

Holdups of Trains are Common Occurrences—General Villa Inflicts Defeat on Terrazas.

London, Sept. 2.—General Felix Diaz purposes to arrive in Mexico before October 20th, for which date the election for the presidency has been fixed. He leaves England tomorrow for the continent, where members of his party will separate until instructions arrive from Mexico to call them together again.

Line Arranges Trip. Vera Cruz, Sept. 2.—President John Lind, and his fleet, commanding the American war ship here, have planned to leave tomorrow morning on a visit to a sugar plantation 60 miles to the south in a district where rebels and bandits have been operating with comparative impunity. The trip will be taken on the invitation of S. Emory, an old friend of Mr. Lind, who is now managing the plantation.

It will be necessary for Mr. Lind and Admiral Fletcher to ride for two hours on horseback after leaving the station at Tierra Blanca. They expect to reach the plantation at 10 o'clock, returning to Vera Cruz tomorrow. Although the train through which they pass is the field of rebel operations, these have not been on a big scale. Independent bands have been engaged in looting the haciendas, which, for the most part are protected, and so far the government has made no systematic effort to suppress them.

Hold-ups of trains on the road over which the Americans will travel to Tierra Blanca are of a common occurrence. The passengers have, however, not been subjected to great inconvenience as bandits or rebels usually are satisfied to levy on the contents of express cars.

Mr. Lind and the admiral are placing reliance on the assurance of Mr. Emory that there will be no danger in the trip and the probabilities are there will be none. Although those interested in the welfare of confidential agents and naval officer express some uneasiness.

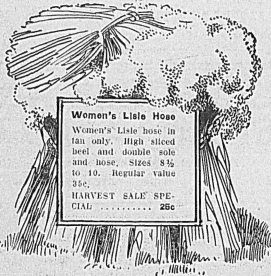

The capital cheerfully makes this correction. Mr. Lind and the admiral are placing reliance on the assurance of Mr. Emory that there will be no danger in the trip and the probabilities are there will be none. Although those interested in the welfare of confidential agents and naval officer express some uneasiness.

James K. Cornwall, than whom there is no better authority upon things northern declares that at least fifty per cent. of the northern furs are going to United States through traders who outfit in Seattle and San Francisco and tap the fur trade of the north by bringing ships into Behring Sea and to Herschell Island.

The fur catch which has been and will be marketed through Edmonton this year approximates three million dollars in value. Another three millions is, therefore, going out by the Arctic, every dollar of which is properly Edmonton's trade, and would come to Edmonton if proper transportation facilities were afforded for bringing the catch out this way, or what is more important, getting the goods down to the point of necessity at a price which would permit Edmonton fur traders to meet the Coast dealers in the matter of price demanded for the commodities offered in exchange for the valuable furs.

In the fur business the day is long past when a handful of tea or sugar gets the prize peltry. The aborigine is no longer the simple child of nature. He knows the market value of his skins and has a pretty shrewd conception of what he should get in exchange for them. Flint locks and brass watches are as much a thing of the past with him as with the white man. He demands Winchester and a Waltham. And similarly . . .

The fur traders who come from the north are reaching a commercial base; he demands his money's worth. He will buy few furs, but he buys few deer, bacon and flour. It is his habit to give to him best who gets the business, and the northern route has advantages which—so far as the trade adjacent to the Arctic is concerned—Edmonton does not at present enjoy.

The principle hidcup under which Edmonton labors at the present time in the matter of transportation is the hundred miles, or so, of rapids on the Athabasca river. From Athabasca to Fort McMurray that majestic river offers terrible hazards to the trader. He may lose his outfit and his life going down—many have lost both—and he is subject to an enormous expense of "tracking" coming up. The cost in risk and in freight rate on the way must be added to the price he is compelled to pay for his goods when they reach their ultimate destination. Freight from Fort McMurray costs $18 a sack. At that price trade is practically limited to those who cannot connect with the ocean traders who come to the Arctic port of Herschell.

The answer, so far as Edmonton is concerned, is to get the road built to McMurray. Once that point is reached, river navigation is uninterrupted to McPherson, with the single exception of 16 miles at Smith Rapids, at which point a tramway would be a simple matter. The remainder of the route made practicable for commerce. For the fur trade alone the road to McMurray would be amply justified, and without it Edmonton is certain to see an ever increasing share of her business slip away to the Coast cities.

Notwithstanding the advance of civilization, the fur trade is growing in value every year, and is to-day, as it ever was, one of Edmonton's most lucrative interests. It is a safe and conservative estimate to say that at the present rate of increase in the value of furs that in the first year in which a railway could be completed from Edmonton to Fort McMurray the aggregate value of the furs caught in the north will be quite equal to the total cost of the railway which would divert the entire product Edmontonwards.

Lethbridge now has the initiative and referendum, being the first city in western Canada to enjoy this advanced legislation. Under the charter granted that city at the last session of the legislature Lethbridge will also have complete commission government after the first of the year, with an elected commission subject to the recall.

In adopting this form of government Lethbridge was governed in its selection by the experience of other cities in the west. Lethbridge has full municipal ownership, owning its water, light and street railway. The citizens of Lethbridge last year, recognizing that municipal ownership requires skillful handling with the undivided attention of those into whose hands the property is placed, are endeavoring to place direct responsibility to those to whom money is involved, commenced to cast about for a form of government which would best secure these things to the ratepayers of that city. A charter committee was empowered by the city council to look into the whole matter, gather data from other cities and to compare the experiences of other cities under commission government so as to gain an authoritative opinion as to what form of government was best suited to the city. The committee was situated in a position which is well recalled, expects the same at Edmonton's

After having gone into the matter very fully this charter committee reported to the city in favor of the commission form of government. A charter embodying an elective commission with the initiative, referendum and recall was drawn up and submitted to the legislature at its last session, and, needless to say, found such favor with the Alberta government that it was passed almost exactly as submitted. Since that time the city council of Lethbridge has been adjusting the affairs of the city to the new form of government. The initiative and referendum has already come into force and the elective commission, which will be chosen at the regular municipal elections in December, takes office upon the expiration of the terms of the present council.

When that time comes Lethbridge will have the most advanced and most democratic piece of legislation in effect west of the Great Lakes. All other cities in the west will watch the progress of events in that city with the greatest of interest. If it proves successful—as it undoubtedly will—those who oppose commission government will have very little ground left on which to stand while championing the old order and fighting the new in Western Canada.

Brantford's chief manufacturers, according to the Brantford Expositor, have been kept busy during the dull season, the largest of the factories, the Massey-Harris works, being occupied entirely with foreign orders which have kept the factory working up to the limit all summer.

If these factories can do this with a protection upon everything that goes into the goods manufactured, the question which naturally arises is why they should not be allowed to do so much larger a foreign trade in the raw material which they use, such as palm, hardwood, steel products and canvas, were relieved of the extra cost engendered by protection? In other words, would not Canadian manufacturers be better off under free trade than under protection? The circumstance that under free trade England is increasing her exports to the United States and Portugal, while the United States and Canada are struggling with a stringency which is supposed to arise in the Balkans and which, naturally has to filter through Great Britain in order to reach the North American continent seems to indicate that protection, instead of steadying manufactures, makes them a sort of hot-house plant which will stand no severe breeze under which free trade industries thrive.

With regard to the Shushanna gold strike at the head of the White River, in the Yukon country, which is now promising to develop into the sensation of the decade in the mining world, it now develops that the same country was run over by prospectors in 1904 and pretty thoroughly explored, but that the high cost of supplies at that time made it impossible to work claims which now promise big profits for those who have been fortunate enough to get locations.

The experience with regard to the White river district is an experience which is repeated times without number in almost every gold camp in the world, and the fact that it is the rule is particularly interesting to Edmontonians at the present time. In the White river district, Columbia, in the Cariboo country, in the Omineca country and in the Carriar, is an enormous place area which has been worked more or less actively since 1862, the date of the now historic Cariboo rush. Throughout this entire region are river beds containing gold in quantities which, although not rich enough to make their working profitable, are nevertheless sufficient to tempt men to persist, promise a comfortable reward for the gum boot man who has the opportunity to purchase his supplies at some point on the railway. The construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific to Fort George and beyond is due to give the country a new impetus by making these lower-grade gold claims profitable, opening up a new market for the "snipers" for thousands of men and opening up a new market for Edmonton wholesale houses.

One harmony that never fails to synchronize is the song of the separator. You will hear it in the Edmonton district in a very few days, and its tuneful hum is the sweetest sound of civilization.

The country is fairly wild over the wonderful recovery that throat sufferers are making every day. The physicians are telling of rapid cures—some cures when the complaint has been neglected for years. It's a brand new principle upon which Catarrhone works—not a single harsh or irritating ingredient. It soothes the stomach or spot of digestion.

It is taken through the Catarrhone inhaler medicated air that is full of healing soothing balsams. The air is so pure and so pleasant it resembles the air of the pine woods in the Adirondacks. The piney vapor has a cooling effect on the inflamed throat. It brings strength and health to the bronchial stops that hocking and coughing have produced. It makes difficult breathing. You can't find anything for weak-throated people that does so much good as Catarrhone. It means heaven on earth to the man that has had bronchitis for years. It is the only medicine to realize this the first time you use Catarrhone, which is a scientific process of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. Get the large size, it lasts twice as long. AS A FACTORY GIRL

STIRS UP SOCIETY

Famous Beauty, Former Miss Who
Seeks Freedom at Newport

Middletown, Conn., Sept. 2. — The working conditions surrounding cotton gins in this city are good.

aid Mrs. E. B. Gowin, lecturer on sociology at Wesleyan university, after working for $5 a week in the Goodyear Rubber Company's factory here.

Finding employment in factories, Mrs. Gowin, who has degrees from Columbia and the University of Wisconsin, gives at first hand facts for the next book on vocations for girls she will publish.

the rubber shoe industry requires intelligence and skill from its girls' parents, the girls continue.

No machines. The girl begins at a low weekly wage, but by the time she is 16, she can earn as much as grammar school teachers, say $50 monthly. The work is not tiring, and the girls are not overworked. They are considerate of their employees' preference. The forewoman under whom the girls work is a woman who told the girls and advised them as to how to get along. The girls could make $200 monthly, including overtime pay, if they were married.

After the word, after inspecting factories in New York City with my husband, who was employed by the state, I consider the girls' situation very favorable to the girl wage younger married pair in America.

The romance which led to the wedding of Mr. Oelert and Miss Elin Whisen, of this city, was of more than ordinary interest to the girls, and drew special attention. The wedding took place June 14, 1904, at St. James' church, and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Oelert and friends and relatives of Mrs. Oelert. The bride, Miss Elin Whisen, of this city, denied that there were any rumors of her engagement to Mr. Oelert, who about three weeks ago a report that he was engaged to her had been circulated. She said that she was engaged through Paris, and that also was a rumor.

Mr. Oelert, a native of Sweden, is a handsome youth at Oelert's paint and sign business at Newport, was available to callers and Mr. Oelert said that he had never heard of the rumor could not be found.

Cost of Living in Canada Shows Greater Increase Than in Other Countries

World Wide Inquiry by British Government Shows that Canadians Bear Greatest Burden of High Cost of Living.

(Canadian Associated Press.)
London, Sept. 2.—The report of the inquiry instituted by the British government into the cost of living, which has been referred to in a previous despatch, has just been published. In addition to dealing with British conditions some comparison is made of prices in foreign countries and overseas dominions.

The chief feature of the report is the evidence it offers that the advance in prices is world-wide. The rise has been greater in foreign countries, with the exception of France, than in Great Britain. The greatest rise has been in Canada, Australia, the United States and Japan. In Austria Hungary 35 per cent., Belgium 25 per cent., Germany 30 per cent., and Italy 25 per cent. In New Zealand 15 per cent. and in the United States 15 per cent. In the British and French rise has been only 15 per cent. Canadian prices show a rise of 51 per cent. Australia and New Zealand show comparatively modest rises.

The cost of living in Canada is 16 per cent. The increase in Canada, in fact, is the largest for any part of the world. The comparison of the report shows that they have had difficulty in bringing together diverse figures and values from all parts of the empire, into a general comparison. The conclusion, however, is not altogether reliable, as some of the figures are not comparable. For instance, taking tea as an example, we find that the price of tea in Canada is 100, in the United States 100, in Australia 100, in New Zealand 100, in the United Kingdom 100, in Belgium 100, in Germany 100, in Italy 100, in Austria Hungary 100, in Japan 100, in the United States 100, in Australia 100, in New Zealand 100, in the United Kingdom 100, in Belgium 100, in Germany 100, in Italy 100, in Austria Hungary 100, in Japan 100.

FIFTEEN KILLED ENGLISH WRECK

Victims Are Burned to Death—London-Scotland Express Is Wrecked.

Kirkby Stephen, County of Westmorland, Eng., Sept. 2.—Fifteen persons were killed, and 30 injured in a collision of two sections of the famous London-Scotland express early today. The wreck occurred on the Midland railway near Hayes Junction, the two sections being southbound. The second section derailed into the rear of the first, telescoping several coaches, which burst into flames.

Many persons were trapped, and, not killed outright, they were burned to death. At least 30 passengers were taken from the wreckage suffering injuries or burns, and as many as 10 of these may die.

The two trains had left Carlisle for London at 1:30 and 1:47 this morning respectively and the collision between them occurred 50 miles south of that place on a high and lonely moor.

The first section of the train had stopped to get up steam for a sharp up-grade when the second section derailed into the rear, piling up the wreckage cars which were crowded with passengers.

Almost immediately afterward several of the cars caught fire and many of the passengers found it impossible to get out. Rescuers from farms in the vicinity came upon the scene and tried to save any of the passengers.

The production of other in the United States in 1912, according to the United States geological survey, 12,549 short tons, valued at $140,289, compared with 11,708 short tons, valued at $109,465, in 1911, in increase of 3,641 short tons in quantity and of $30,824 in value.

BOY IS FATALLY SHOT BY BROTHER

Accident Happens Trying to Kill a Rabbit—Party of Four Drowned.

Athabasca, Sept. 2.—Joe Gussner, a young son of a Pine Creek settler, was shot in the back Sunday by his brother while they were driving home from town on a hay rack. The bullet entered the boy's back and perforated the bowels. He was brought to the hospital and operated upon, but he is not likely to recover.

The shooting was accidental and occurred when his brother picked up a rabbit on the road and tried to shoot at it with a rifle. A report has been received here that another tragedy has occurred at Gravelly Rapids. It is said that a snow barge was towed by the two and four occupants were drowned. The two of the men were known here, one being a man named Waugh, a carpenter formerly of Prince Edward Island, and Dennis, a schoolmaster, who lived here for several months. The other two were a man and his son who came from Nebraska. The Nebraska wife and daughter left the boat to walk around the bad part of the rapids and thus were saved. The party left here two weeks ago out-fitted for two years. They attempted to negotiate the rapids without a guide.

COLONEL SAM. HUGHES GETS A NEW NICKNAME

London Papers Call Him as the "Hero of the Army of the Empire"—He is Very Cautious, However.

London, Sept. 2.—Colonel Sam Hughes, who is staying at the Savoy hotel preparatory to proceeding to the British army maneuvers, is hailed by one of the newspapers of the Pictorial Imperialist type as "Hero of the Army of the Empire."

In actual newspapers interviews, though, the Canadian minister of militia appears extremely cautious in voicing his sentiments. He is not prepared, for instance, to discuss compulsory military training—the burning question of Home Militia—containing himself with saying that each of the overseas dominions must decide this matter for itself.

He expressed enthusiasm for General Ian Hamilton, saying "this report on the Canadian militia is one of the ablest and most brilliantly written state papers ever penned by any military authority."

But he declined to say whether Canada was prepared to adopt all the recommendations contained therein. Colonel Hughes and his party of Canadian staff officers will go on from Salisbury to witness the military manoeuvres of France and of Switzerland.

PERFECT HELL ON EARTH IN BATTLE WITH DERVISHES

Story of Terrific Fight Engaged in by the Somaliland Camel Corps.

ONLY 26 MEN LEFT TO GIVE COMBAT TO 1500

All That Saved the British Force Was the Giving Out of the Ammunition of the Followers of the Mullah.

London, Sept. 2.—The first detailed description of the terrible fight between the Somaliland camel corps and the Mullah Dervishes, which took place on August 9th, is contained in a graphic letter published by the Daily Express.

Leutenant Dunn, who was in command after Lieutenant Cornhill, had been killed at the commencement of the battle, writes that the camel corps, all told, 112 strong, went to encounter in a large forest which had been looted by Dervishes.

On the morning of the 9th lined men up. The Dervishes numbered 1,500.

Fighting began and soon the state of things became a perfect hell on earth. The camel corps, which had been looted by Dervishes, 22 wounded, and there were only 26 able fighting men left to combat an enemy numbered at 1,500.

"All that saved us," says the corporal, "was that their ammunition gave out, and 16 of their camels and mules were shot."

"In a last mad rush they brought up

COPPER STRIKE LOOKS SERIOUS

Fifteen Year Old Girl Fatally Shot During Clash Between Men.

Calmet, Mich., Sept. 2.—The copper strike situation took a serious aspect yesterday as the result of the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old girl, daughter of a striker, at the North Kenosha mine, when a pistol of strikers and women clashed with security forces guarding the mine. The deputies claim they were driven from the mine property by the strikers, and when they returned to protect the property they were fired upon by the strikers' leaders day this, saying the deputies fired without provocation into the crowd of men and women, wounding the girl and several others. The military forces took charge of the patrol work about the mine at Wolverine and the Kenosha as well as at other mines. General Abey has ordered an investigation.

THE GAY WORLD.

JOHNSON—FYLE.
Sordellian street Methodist church, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns, palms, and pink and white blooms, was the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon when Miss Clara, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fyle, of Terrace Hill street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Rev. Frank Johnson, D.D., B.D., of Sordellian, Illinois, brother-in-law of the bride. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, daintily attired in white crepe de chene over satin, with wedding veil and orange blossoms, her only ornaments, the gifts of the groom, and a lovely pink and white Dresden silk gown with wide cap of tulle, trimmed with white flowers, while the groom was supported by Mr. Wesley Warboys. Mrs. John Lusk presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, about 30 of the relatives and immediate friends being present, and later in the afternoon, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for their honeymoon trip down the Kenan river and through the Thousand Islands. On their return they will leave for their home in Edmonton, followed by the countless good wishes of their many friends. The bride has been a great worker in both church and Sunday school, where she will be much missed, as well as in social circles. Many beautiful gifts were tendered to the bride, and the bride's gift to the groom was a set of collar pins set with diamonds and pearls, and to the groomsmen he gave a tie pin of the same design and setting—arrangement.

WOMAN MADE FROM MAN'S BACKBONE, NOT RIB, SAYS SUFFRAGIST.

Pittsburg, Sept. 2.—If it were true that woman was made out of man, she would have been made out of the backbone of Adam—not a rib. This was the declaration of Mrs. Jessie Hardy Sluhs, the ardent Suffragist, who was one of the speakers at the annual convention of the National Woman's Suffrage association, held here.

She addressed a large audience here, and advised, "and the 25th and 26th verses of the second, and you will find that it is said that the woman was made from a rib of Adam, and not from his backbone. At the same time, you will find that the woman was made from his backbone, and not from his rib. This is the fact, and it is the fact that we must remember."

May be Hitch Over Maids for Connaught Nuptials

Bride Wants Her Sister to be Chief Bridesmaid, and Queen Mary insists That Her Daughter Shall Not Play "Second" Fiddle.

London, Sept. 2.—There has been a hitch over the question of bridesmaids for the Duchess of Fife at her marriage to Prince Arthur of Connaught. The bridesmaids, as provided by the Duchess of Fife, are her sister, Princess Maude of Fife, Princess Mary, Princess Patricia of Connaught, and Princesses of Teck. The Duchess, not unnaturally, wanted her sister, the Princess Maude, to be chief bridesmaid, while the Queen refused to allow Princess Mary to play second fiddle to anyone. As the Queen likes to have her own way, and the Duchess of Fife considers it is her wedding and not one else's, things are at a deadlock, despite the tears of Princess Mary, who set her heart on following her cousin on the latter's wedding day, and the endeavors of Queen Alexandra who went from Sandringham to Balmoral specially in the interests of peace to effect a compromise. As the Duchess of Fife has not yet made known her choice of a princess to take Princess Mary's place, if the Queen does not relent, there are still hopes that Queen Alexandra's good offices may be successful. There is no quarrel over the train bearers as in the ordinary course of events they will walk into church side by side. They will be Prince Olaf, of Norway, and Prince John, of Denmark, and Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra has given to her favorite granddaughters a diamond crown, and a necklace and corsage ornaments. The King and Queen are having specially designed a diamond crown, and necklace, while the gift of the royal children will be a spilt Corbett. The wedding presents will also include a quantity of plate. The Marriage Plate is used by the Princess Royal and a complete service of table silver is to be one of the presents, made. Two or three automobiles are to be given to Prince Arthur.

The immediate home of the young pair will be Burnham, in the vicinity of York, but it is likely they will this autumn at any rate, be a good deal at Mar, where the forest is sadly in need of attention. As Prince Arthur is a very keen sportsman, it is probable that it will be his. The rumor is gaining ground that Prince Arthur is to replace the Duke of Connaught as

WILL GIVE BALL.
The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Royal Alexandra hospital was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. F. M. Morgan in the chair. After the business of the meeting had been gone through with, including the reading of reports of those who had had the booth at the exhibition in charge, the ladies turned their attention to making arrangements for a ball to be given under the auspices of the society and in aid of the hospital. It was decided to hold the dance on the first Friday in October in the Empire auditorium.

Like the queen, the Princess Royal is not an ardent admirer of elaborate fashions, either for herself or her daughters, and a somewhat modified form of the society skirts of nowadays will appear in the tresses of the young duchess. The Emerald Isle will provide most of the linen, both for the personal use of the bride-elect and of the household for the young couple. The Duchess of Fife will bring all that is required in the way of "plushings" in this description as brides usually do.

The alterations of the chapel royal for the wedding are now under way. Advantage is being taken of the regular closing of the chapel at this time of the year when parliament is not in session and the court is absent from London, so that the alterations will not inconvenience the ordinary congregations. The wedding will be a semi-state ceremony, the invitation being sent out by Lord Chamberlain's office in the name of the Princess Royal. It is expected that the German Emperor, the German Crown Prince and Princess, the King and Queen of Norway, the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden, the King and Queen of Denmark, and also the English royal family will be present, while the wedding breakfast will be in St. James Palace where the King and Queen was held. Prince Arthur is to be married in the uniform of the King's Own Hussars, and the detachment of his regiment will be on duty and line the aisle at the chapel royal.

Lambert and Ball had a delightful turn. Ernest Ball wrote "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," and "Love Me and Worth Mine." For all that, he was a mighty pleasant, clever young man who played the audience to jigging in their chairs, and smiled at them in a way that would warm the cockles of the hardest coldest heart. Miss Lambert was both good to look at and humorous.

Responding to numerous entreaties Miss Lambert sang an exquisite little song of her composition, "Come Back to Playland With Me." The most refreshing feature of the evening was the songs. Nowadays it is the thing to set gibberish to catchy music. Hummer wedded to rhythm has become practically unknown.

Ernest Ball and his funny hat kept the audience chuckling. His act, "The King's Jester," is a funny one which tells the story of a king who wanted to laugh. Jester after Jester tried in vain and they were in turn executed and his straw hat. He made the king laugh and got the reward, a great bag of gold. The gloomy king was excitedly taken. His solo, "I Want to Laugh" delivered in graveyard tones, won instant applause.

Miss Robbie Gordon in reproductions of famous bits of statuary had an act of surpassing beauty. It seemed almost too much to ask the audience to believe that what looked like hideous rubble was a really, truly flesh and blood woman. True to type, the audience last night preferred the statue of the country girl with a basket of roses and the humorous "Frits" to the others.

The Jungsman family did really marvelous things on the wire, and the comedy of three of them was the sinner pure article. As a usual thing the fun-making of aerobats and acrobats is a sorry spectacle.

Belle Caline and Herman, strong men, have an interesting act, and Ted Lorraine gallantly endeavored to amuse the audience without his pretty little party who was taken suddenly ill in Calgary. His singing was enjoyable and his dancing graceful in the extreme.

A co-operative egg-selling association, with the schoolhouse as the place for gathering eggs, the children to bring them in, and the teacher to supervise, was suggested by W. J. Shuford, of Hickory, N.C.

Rev. Mr. Myers, for Several Years Pastor of Westminster Church, Leaves for Calgary Tomorrow—Large Representation

Not only was there a great gathering of the congregation to which Mr. Myers had faithfully ministered, but there were also representatives of the various other city churches. ### FIVE HEADLINE ACTS AT EMPIRE

Advertised Acts Justify Press Notices—Jungsman Family and Robbie Gordon O.K.

THE EMPIRE.
The Empire bill has been a decidedly clever one. It is advertised as having three headline acts. For once the press agent was so modest. He might have claimed five for it, and been well within the bounds of truth.

Lambert and Ball, Charlie Perry and Ed. Wyne were good in their turns, but then there was Miss Robbie Gordon, in a startlingly beautiful act, and the Jungsman family who sent the audience away marveling at their cleverness and laughing at the funny antics of three of the most solemn members of the "family."

"Into the Light," which was Miss Parry's vehicle was more than anything else, weird. The act is really that of a ghost who comes on the stage plunged into total darkness. Out of this black come spooky voices, and in a ghastly series of light, the witnesses are called to testify in a so-called murder trial. The work of Miss Parry who impersonates five totally different characters with marvelous rapidity, was wonderful, but all the audience to jigging in their chairs, and smiled at them in a way that would warm the cockles of the hardest coldest heart. Miss Lambert was both good to look at and humorous.

GERMAN SOCIALIST PAPER HAS REMARKABLE SCHEME

Scheme Has Been Organized Quicker in Interest of German Foreign Trade Policy.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—The socialist newspaper, Vorwarts, publishes a remarkable scheme which has been organized quickly in interest of Germany's foreign trade policy. The paper obtained possession of a confidential letter which a number of days ago was addressed to the foreign secretary, Herr Jagow, asking for support to give a new daily paper through which it was intended to organize a foreign overseas press. Other newspapers had aimed to publish weekly letters on German affairs. The promoters of the new paper claimed that Germany has been without a newspaper. It is the Vorwarts which has been promised in subscriptions. The Vorwarts says that the subscribers include four hundred and twenty thousand firms.

LABOR DAY WAS WELL CELEBRATED FOR TAX RETURN

Large Crowd of People Gathered on Exhibition Grounds for Sports.

Nearly 100 people attended the annual Labor day celebration at the Exhibition grounds yesterday when an excellent program of sports designed especially for members of the different unions in the city was put out. Music was provided by the Citizens' band, and in addition to the regular program of sports the "Pipers' band" provided music, held dancing and pipe competitions on the platform in front of the grand stand.

The sports program was, however, the feature of the day, and in nearly every event there was a long line of entrants. Competition was keen and many of the races proved exciting.

The catching of the greasy pig was the big event of the afternoon, however, and called out a large entry. The pig apparently was a non-union pig and refused to work on Labor day. It only ran a short distance before being captured.

The program was completed shortly after five o'clock.

VISIT OF KAISER MARRED BY POLES

Trip of Posen a Failure so far as Settling Problems is Concerned.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Although the majesty of the German emperor has maintained a discreet silence on the subject, it is known that Kaiser Wilhelm's visit to Posen to attend the dedication of the new royal castle there, was seriously marred by manifestations by Polish residents. Despite the conciliatory efforts of the authorities, the Poles of the city conspicuously showed their displeasure, and left the festivities entirely to the German elements of the population.

Leading Polish banks, business houses and hotels, refused to display so much as a flag by way of decoration, and Polish members of the city council declined all invitations to participate in the various public celebrations.

One shop-keeper had the temerity to decorate the front of his store, but his show windows were mysteriously smashed the following night.

A number of Polish nobility who had an invitation to attend the dinner at the castle, were surrounded and jeered as they drove through the streets, and one woman belonging to the aristocracy, the Countess Zieten, had a tin can filled with water thrown at her head.

It became necessary to turn out extra details of police to prevent further disorders.

These incidents have again directed attention to the examination of the Polish problem and the intensity of the feeling now prevailing in non-German sections of the empire. Mr. Posen. Thus far the efforts of the Prussian authorities to settle matters by the policy of enforcing German colonization have only served to aggravate matters. The only effort so-called disciplinary act has been to make feeling among the Poles more bitter than ever.

The Kaiser on his present trip to Posen was accompanied by the Kaiserin and their four sons, including Crown Prince Frederick William. The fact that the Poles were manifestly not all mollified by these conspicuous actions inasmuch as a serious disposition to German political leaders who are pointing out that the Polish question, far from nearing a settlement, is steadily becoming acute.

LABOR DELEGATES TO HELPED MUCH FOR TAX RETURN

Toronto Council Does Not Get Much Satisfaction from Sir James Whitney.

COMPENSATION BILL IS ASSURED NEXT SESSION

Prime Minister Listens to Other Questions Such as Carpenters' Grievances and Alleged Improper Use of Police.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Delegates of the Toronto District Trades and Labor council did not get much satisfaction from Sir James Whitney in regard to tax reform, when they called on the prime minister at the parliament buildings, but they secured a definite promise that workmen's compensation again would be passed at the next session of the legislature.

The delegates who numbered about 20 were introduced by James Simpson, the subjects of law reform, workmen's compensation, grievances regarding the wages paid carpenters in the employ of government and the alleged misuse of the provincial police in miners' strikes were laid before the prime minister by the delegates.

"The government is always open to suggestion," said Sir James, "and I think will be of a receptive mind, not only willing but anxious to receive suggestions from all sides. Something will get about that the government is unjust. That is not natural and will happen. You know what the government did in the matter of the government house and they are not to blame."

"With regard to the police and other departments the government is conscious of defects. But we propose to do so right ahead. We expect that misunderstandings will arise, but we will never stop and will endeavor to do the best we can. We know that we are sometimes times. Even the best of us are."

"The Sensible Way."

"Now in regard to tax upon taxation, the point you want to make is that you desire to let each municipality have the power to have whatever form of taxation it wants."

"The sensible way is to let the government interpret what is best for the people and what the people want is not one who says there should be no change. All I say is that changes should be made with care and hesitation. If the government considers its duty they will continue to interfere in the way it is now handled."

"If our municipality had one system of taxation and another municipality another system, where would it end? In other countries."

Mr. Douglas, "But Sir James, in New Zealand and Australia they have such a system."

Sir James: "There you are. It is just the merits of the case. Henry George puts forward a lot of arguments, some of which, I agree with, and he ends by saying that nobody is entitled to own land, and that land should be taken away from the owners without compensation."

Speaking of workmen's compensation, Sir James said that there had been a great deal of misrepresentation of the attitude of government by certain papers.

"Proud of That Day."

"But we chose this commissioner," he continued. "It is our commission. We were not that we were not the long time. Gentlemen we are proud of that day. We know we are justified in delaying in matters of such importance. Every well balanced man knows that when you deal with a matter of that kind without delay you deal with it foolishly."

"We told the commissioner to search the matter to the bottom. We said for him to hold an investigation. We are proud that we proposed the matter at the last session, because we feel that because of the important question a delay of one year will matter nothing, while a mistake might be disastrous."

"We want it said when we get out of power that there will be nothing among the many things that we have done that will rebound more to our credit than to the workmen's compensation legislation. All this we are going to do irrespective of criticism. I expect to be criticized by the manufacturers, and the trades and labor councils, and I do expect the legislation brought in, will be criticized by the business men. If we are criticized by both parties, then we will be just about right."

"You measure in a large measure the recommendations of Sir William Meredith and you ask us to adopt his report. It is the voice of the government to appoint Sir William as commissioner."

To Pass at Next Session.

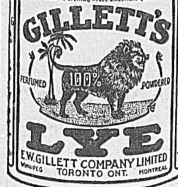

"I expect no doubt there will be defects in our legislation. There always will be defects, but I ask you not to allow any newspaper to induce you to believe that this government is hesitant to introduce this legislation and other legislation from time to time. Our plan will be to endeavor to prove by our acts what our intentions are. But don't ever make the mistake of thinking the government of Ontario did not care to hear this legislation."

Mr. Bancroft: "Are we to understand, Sir James, that you will not be introduced by the manufacturer, this legislation at the next session?"

Sir James: "What do you suppose we have gone so far for? Do you suppose we are going to drop the matter after having appointed a commissioner and then to let it drop?"

"The work of this government will not be finished until this bill is passed next session."

INITIALS OF AN OLD EXPLORED FOUND ON TREE

Barf Man Finds Tree on which Are Initials of Sir George Simpson.

SIMPSON PASS NAMED AFTER HUDSON BAY MAN

Photographs of Tree Have Been Taken and Sent to Museums in Canada and the United States.

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 2.—While passing through the Simpson Pass, one of the Alberta gateways to the Rocky mountains, James Stewart, of Banff, made an interesting discovery when he unearthed a fallen tree on which had been cut the following initials and date:

These initials are undoubtedly those of Sir George Simpson, after whom the pass was named, and who is famous in history as a great traveler and explorer of the Rocky mountains.

The initials (G. S.) are probably those of his guide, James Roland, an ex-convict who was taken to the mountains during his journey round the world, which took him through the Simpson pass.

Mr. Stewart, a remarkable record for quick traveling, had now put in the world the record made by John H. Mears, an American, who covered the same ground in 36 days.

The life of the veteran king of fur traders is one of the most picturesque in North American history. It is the story of a man of definite convictions, of unrelenting vigor, of firm loyalty, and where it concerned the government under him, stern justice. It was chiefly in recognition of these services that he was knighted by Queen Victoria in 1829.

In 1811 he took his one famous tour of the world, leaving London, England, on March 4th of that year. With canoe and pack horse he crossed the continent, took ship from Port Vancouver, and reached London on his return journey in exactly 19 months and 25 days from the time of his starting.

In 1819 Sir George retired from the active government of the company. He died in 1860 at his headquarters at Lachine, near Montreal.

TURKISH CAVALRY APPROACH KANTHI

Turkish Newspaper Denounces the Carnegie Investigating Commission.

Satonic, Sept. 2.—A column of Turkish troops, advancing on the town of Kanthi, on the railroad from the port of Debajeh to the Aegean sea, has withdrawn.

The newspaper Liberte, in a long article brought in, will be criticized by the investigation of alleged atrocities committed in the Aegean region, which both Servians and Greeks objected, says that the Greek government asked an inquiry as long ago as May 19, but wanted judges and arbitrators, not counsel and prosecutors. Moreover, the article, it is now too late for a useful purpose. It is now too late for a useful purpose. It is now too late for a useful purpose.
